Family Love Stories:
Books that Focus on Love of Parents

SYNOPSIS

Good Night, Laila Tov
BY: LAUREL SNYDER
ILLUSTRATED BY: JUI ISHIDA
Age group: 2–4
A loving family spends a glorious day hiking, swimming, and camping outdoors. As the family members travel from ocean, to forest, to meadow, and then back home, they discover many new ways of communicating their love and appreciation for one another.

Five Little Gefiltes
BY: DAVE HOROWITZ
ILLUSTRATED BY: DAVE HOROWITZ
Age group: 3–5
Mama Gefilte feels sad and disappointed when, one by one, her children leave the gefilte fish jar to go exploring. Her children, however, are highly empathetic. Once they realize how much their mother misses them, the children, like good little mensches, promptly return home, happily embracing their mother and immediately reviving her lagging spirits.

The Schmutzy Family
BY: MADELYN ROSENBERG
ILLUSTRATED BY: PAUL MEISEL
Age group: 5–8
Familial love flourishes on each page of this fun-filled book. Highly attuned to the inner needs of her children, Mama Schmutzy allows her children to paint, explore the outdoors, work in the garden, and make messes to their hearts' content. However, as Shabbat approaches, Mama decides that the messes must cease. In a sweet display of love and cooperation, the children eagerly help their mother prepare for Shabbat.

GOALS
While each of these books focuses on a slightly different aspect of familial love, each can serve as a wonderful jumping-off point for exploring the topic of “love of parents.” This program guide presents an array of discussion questions and activities. By choosing several activities and discussion prompts, program organizers will be able to create a stimulating program that will:

- Help children recognize the deep bonds of love that connect them to their parents.
- Introduce children to effective techniques for expressing their love and gratitude towards their parents.
- Encourage families to express their love for one another on a daily basis.

Introduce with activities

Intro Words:
"In the book we’re going to read today, we’re going to meet a special family—a family in which every person in the family loves one another very much. Do the people in your family love one another? I bet they do. Today, we’re going to spend a lot of time talking about love. Specifically, we’re going to talk about how children can let the adults in their life know how much they love them. Right now, we’re going to start our program by having you make a special gift for a parent."

CHOOSE THE ACTIVITIES
Choose 2–4 activities
1–2 projects for introductory activities and 1–2 projects for follow-up activities.

Heart-to-Heart (partner-finding activities)

Project Description: If you’d like to increase interaction between families, lead with one of the Heart-to-Heart activities. We recommend that you choose one of the two partner-finding activities listed below based on the ages of the children who will be participating in your program. These activities work best in conjunction with another activity (i.e., distribute Heart-to-Heart materials while a different project is being worked on).

Intro:
“As we think about love and the ways in which family members love one another, we thought it might be fun to meet another family and compare love notes with them. As you were working on your project, we passed out one half of a colorful heart to each family. Your job is to find the family who has the matching half.”

Heart-to-Heart Scavenger Hunt

Recommended for: ages 1 and up

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Paper with different colors and patterns

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Cut out large hearts using different kinds of paper.
- Cut the large hearts in half.
- Cut 6–8 miniature hearts to match each large heart.
- Place small hearts around the room (in easy-to-find spots).

Intro:
“Now that you’ve found the family with the matching half of your heart, work together as a team to see how many small hearts you can find that match your large heart. Once you’ve collected and counted your small hearts, give your parents the same number of hugs and/or kisses as the number of hearts that you found.”
Heart-to-Heart “Love Thoughts” Questionnaire

Recommended for: ages 5–8

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Copies of “Love Thoughts” questionnaire (attached)
- Pencils/Pens for completing questionnaire

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS
- Print copies of questionnaire

Intro:
“Once you’ve found your partner, find a place to sit. Spend a few minutes completing the questionnaire with the help of a parent. Once you’ve finished the questionnaire, share some of your answers with your partner.”

Love Notes

Project Description: Children and parents work together to decorate a large card and write love messages to one another inside the card.

Recommended for: ages 6 months–3 years

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Large pieces of construction paper that can be folded in half
- Heart stencil (see below to learn how to create a stencil)
- Dot paints
- Markers

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Create heart stencil: Draw a heart shape on a piece of oak tag or poster board. Start cutting from the middle of the shape to carve out a heart; do not cut into the edges.
- Fold construction paper in half to form a card.
- Tape stencil to front of card.
- Create a sample card that parents can refer to for guidance on how to decorate and compose their card.

DIRECTIONS:
1. Using dot paints, fill in the heart shape with paint.
2. Lift the stencil off of the paper and admire the resulting heart shape.
3. Parents open the card and complete the inside of the card.
   On one side of the card parents write: “I love _____ (child’s name) because...” and then list a few aspects of their child that they particularly adore.
   On the other side of the card, parents ask children to supply the name of an adult in their life whom they love (Mommy, Daddy, etc.). Parents then write “I love _____ because...” (For younger children they can write “Things I Love to Do With______.”) Parents then record their child’s thoughts (asking questions such as “What do you love to do with______?” “What’s something that’s very special about______?”)
Intro:
“Sometimes it’s important to let the important people in your life know how much you love them. Here’s a fun project that you can work on with someone you love. Once you’ve decorated your heart, open up your card and write notes to the one you love.”

Picture-Perfect Love

Project Description: Children decorate picture frames and attach love notes to the frame. If desired, children can decorate their frame with blank puzzle pieces. For the puzzle frame option, children can attach a puzzle piece that says “Reasons why I love _____ to pieces.”

Recommended for: ages 1 and up

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Frame (made from poster board, craft foam, or heavy construction paper)
- Glue sticks or glue, bowls, and Q-tips
- Foam or construction paper shapes (or blank puzzle pieces) for families to write notes
- Markers
- Gems, stickers, sequins (or any other types of decoration)
- Optional: color printer

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Cut out frames and shapes that can be used for love notes
- Ask families to bring in a photo showing a child with parent OR take photos of child with parent as families arrive. During the course of the program, print out and distribute photos to be placed in the frames.
- Create a sample frame that will serve as a model for families.

DIRECTIONS:
1. Ask adults to help children compose notes about the person in the photo.
2. One note should contain the words: “I love ____ because...”; “Things I like to do with ____...”; or “Reasons why I love ____ to pieces...”
3. The other shapes on the frame will contain short phrases and sentences that help to complete the statement you chose. For example, a heart shape might contain the words “Things I love to do with Mommy,” while the other shapes might contain words such as “read books,” “build with Legos,” or “travel to Holland.”
4. Children attach love notes to the frame and decorate the spaces in between notes.

Intro:
“Parents (and kids) love looking at pictures of the people they love. This project will help those pictures become even more special. You will you decorate a frame and add special notes to the frame, letting the person in the photo know just how much you love them.”
Loving Journeys: A Listing of Family Trips

(Works well in conjunction with Good night: Laila Tov)

Project Description: Children decorate the cover of a small book that will serve as a journal for recording memories of family outings.

Recommended for: ages 2–6

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Small store-bought notebooks with covers that can be decorated OR handmade books that have car-shaped covers (see bottom right)
- Stickers, markers
- Scratch paper for decorating notebook covers
- Wooden stylus or toothpicks (if using scratch paper)

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS
- For store-bought notebook journal: Make copies of the “Loving Journeys Writing Prompts” (found at the end of this guide) and tape a copy of the prompts to the inside cover of the notebook.
  ➤ Create (or ask families to create) a book label that reads “Loving Journeys: A Journal of our Family’s Road Trips.”
- For handmade journal: Cut out front and back cover, place papers between covers and staple book together.
  ➤ If using scratch paper, cut the paper into a car, airplane, or train shape.

Intro:
“One of the ways in which we let others know how much we love them is by thanking them for all that they do for us. Parents often take kids to special places because they want to spend time and share adventures with people they love. This project will give you a chance to write down and keep track of some of the special places that you visit with those you love. As you read about some of your trips, we hope you’ll remember to say ‘thank you’ to the people who have traveled with you.”

Love Bites

Project Description: Kids prepare special snacks for parents. Parents, in turn prepare special snacks for kids.

Recommended for: ages 2–8

Fruit Kebobs

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Strawberries
- Melon: cantaloupe, honeydew, watermelon (use one type or a combination)
- Grapes
- Wooden skewers
- Several heart-shaped cookie cutters, so several families can work at the same time
- Plastic knives
- Paper plates to serve as cutting boards and for eating
ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Remove green leaves from strawberries.
- Slice melon in half, remove seeds, and slice in round circles.
- Remove rind from melon.
- Break grapes into small clusters.

DIRECTIONS:
1. Prepare fruit for kebobs.
   - Using plastic knives, cut strawberries in half lengthwise, creating a heart shape.
   - Using cookie cutters, create heart shaped melon pieces.
   - Pluck individual grapes from their stems.
2. Poke skewer through fruit, arranging as desired.
3. Share creations with loved ones.

Yogurt Parfaits

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Strawberries
- Yogurt: Plain, strawberry, and/or vanilla (Greek or regular)
- Granola
- Plastic cups
- Plastic spoons
- Heart-shaped cookie cutters (optional)
- Apples (optional)
- Whipped cream (optional)

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Remove green leaves from strawberries and cut into halves or quarters (or ask participants to cut the strawberries as part of the “cooking” process).
- Arrange strawberries, granola, and yogurt in separate bowls.
- Optional: Peel and cut apples crosswise into 1/4 inch wide slices. The core of the apple should be in the center of the slices. Remove seeds.

DIRECTIONS:
1. Taking an empty cup and spoon, participants fill their cup in layers (i.e., a layer of granola, a layer of yogurt, a layer of fruit, etc.).
2. Optional: Participants can prepare their own heart shaped fruit by slicing strawberries in half and using cookie cutters to cut apple hearts.
3. Optional: Top with whipped cream and enjoy!

Intro:
“When the rabbis list ways in which grown-up children should show honor (and love) to their parents, they note that as parents get older, children should make sure that their parents have food to eat, particularly food that their parents once loved. This activity gives you a chance to show your love for your parents by preparing a special snack for them. As you make a snack for your parent, perhaps they’ll make a snack for you.”
A Gift of Sleep for Parents

Project Description: Children decorate a door knob hanger that will hang on their parents’ bedroom to remind them that they need to try to let their parents sleep.

Recommended for: ages 2–6

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Door knob hangers (these can be purchased at a craft store, ordered online, cut by hand, or with a die-cut machine from craft foam, plastic, or card stock)
- Stickers
- Sequins, jewels, etc.
- Glue sticks or glue, paper bowls, and Q-tips
- Markers
- Optional: Pre-printed squares or circles containing phrases like “Shh...Parents Sleeping”; “Shh... Mommy’s Sleeping”; “Grown-Up’s Sleeping”; “Do Not Disturb”; “Can't Play — We're Sleeping.”

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Make a few sample door knob hangers. Use different phrases so parents have a better idea of possible notes that can be written on the door knob hangers.
- If making hangers from scratch, cut out shapes beforehand.

Intro:
“The rabbis teach that one of the ways in which children can honor and show love to their parents is by making sure that their parents are able to get enough sleep. In fact, there’s a famous story in the Talmud, an important book of Jewish law and rabbinic commentary, that talks about a young man named Doma ben Netina (Kiddushin 31a) who was richly rewarded because he refused to interrupt his father’s nap. It’s not always easy to remember that we need to let our parents sleep. Right now, we’re going to make a sign that can be hung on parents’ bedroom door to remind kids that parents need their sleep, and that kids should try to play by themselves and wait patiently until their parents wake up.”

Love Coupons

Project Description: Children create coupon booklets, where each page describes one kind deed or act that a child will perform for his/her parents.

Recommended for: ages 5–8

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Construction paper
- Scissors
- Pens
- A list of possible coupon ideas
- Staplers and staples
ADVANCED PREPARATIONS

- Create small coupon booklets by cutting construction paper into strips (approximately 4.5 inches x 11 inches), folding in half, and stapling.
- Alternatively, kids can make their own booklets at the program by tracing their hands and cutting out 5–8 handprints. These handprints can then be stapled together to form a booklet.

Intro:

“Giving presents can sometimes be a good way to show others how much we love them. The best gifts are usually not ones that we buy at the store, but ones that require lots of effort on the part of the gift-giver. Think of kind, helpful things you can do for your parents, such as make breakfast, pick up toys, or set the table. Make coupons for your parents that they can present to you whenever they’d like you to do something special for them.”

SUGGESTIONS FOR LOVE COUPONS

(Encourage families to use these suggestions as a guide for thinking up their own coupon ideas)

This coupon is good for:

- 1 hug and 3 kisses
- A picture drawn by me
- One morning of getting dressed without fighting
- One breakfast in bed
- One evening of going to sleep without complaining
- One morning of watering the plants
- One evening of setting the table
- One car wash
- One salad made by me
- One day of help in the garden
- One day of having the groceries carried in

Read the story

Introductory Remarks:

“Because everyone has been talking about love so much and making such wonderful love projects, I feel as if this room is bursting with love. Let’s add to the love by having everyone give a big hug to the person or people who brought you to our program today.

Do the people in your family love each other very much? I bet they do. In the book we’re going to read today, we’re going to meet a special family—a family in which every person in the family loves each other very much. As we read, see if you can keep track of some of the ways that the family members in our story show their love for one another.”
Post-Reading Discussion (Book-Specific Questions):

GOOD NIGHT, LAILA TOV

1. The family in this book spent the day traveling to many different places. What places did the family visit?
2. Why do you think the parents brought the children to those places?
3. Why did the family come home from their trip in the middle of the night?
4. How do you know that the parents in this book love their children very much?
5. How did the children show their parents that they love them?

FIVE LITTLE GEFILTES

1. What were some of the places that the gefilte fish children visited?
2. How did the Mama feel when the children didn’t come home?
3. Why did the children come back in the end?
4. How did the children show their mother that they loved her?

THE SCHMUTZY FAMILY

1. What kinds of things do the children in this book like to do?
2. What does the mother say when the children make a mess?
3. Why do you think the mother allows the kids to be so messy?
4. Do the children in this book love their mother? How do they show their love?

Post-Reading Discussion (General Questions—for use with all books):

1. Does anyone know how to say love in Hebrew? (Ahava). In the middle of the word AHAVA is a small Hebrew word that says “HAVA.” “Hava” means “to give.” According to the Torah and other important books of Judaism, one of the ways that we can show people that we love them is by giving. I don’t mean giving money or presents—I mean showing that we love someone by giving hugs, kisses, attention, and by doing kind things for one another. How do you act and what words do you use to show your parents that you love them?
2. How do your parents show that they love you? What words do your parents use, and what actions do they take to show that they love you?
3. The Torah lists ten important rules that Jewish people should try to follow. These rules are called the Ten Commandments. The fifth of these ten rules tells us to honor our parents. The Torah and the Rabbis throughout the ages have given us lots of instructions on how we can honor and show love to our parents. Did you know that if a parent is sleeping we’re not supposed to wake them up? Some say that if a parent comes into a room, we need to jump to our feet and stand up to show our honor and respect. Others say that a child should never sit in a parent’s special chair. One Rabbi says that we should try to see our parents as superheroes, as people who possess special powers. I think we’d all agree that our parents are very special. Think about all of the things that your parents do. Can you describe one of your parent’s superpowers? What makes your parents very special? Can you turn to your parents and tell them one reason why you think they’re special?
Follow Up activities and resources

Intro:
“Right now, we have more activities that will help you to show your mom or dad how much you love them.”

Activities: Choose 1–2 additional activities from the opening list.

SINGING SONGS:

“IN MY LEV”—SHELDON LOW

In my heart, in my lev
All these things are in my lev
In my heart, in my lev In my lev

All the mommies are in my lev
All the daddies are in my lev
All the sisters are in my lev
All the brothers are in my lev

Chorus

All my friends are in my lev
All my teachers are in my lev
All the animals are in my lev
All the plants are in my lev

“WHEN YOU GIVE A LITTLE AHAVA”—JUDY FARBER

Chorus: (sing 4x)

When you give a little ahavah
When you give a little love, you’ll see
You’ll make this world
A better place

Chorus (sing 2x)

That’s one, two, three and four
When you give a little love
Give a little bit more
Echad-shtayim-shalosh-arbah
Don’t forget to give a little ahavah
To your mama, your papa, your sister and your brother
To the whole wide world, let’s love one another

Chorus: (sing 4x)

When you give a little ahavah
When you give a little love, you’ll see
You’ll make this world
A better place

A much better place to be
Just start to laugh a little laugh
Smile a little smile
Reach for someone’s hand
Talk a little while
Then you’ll start to see
That you have made
This world a better place to be

Chorus: (sing 4x)

When you give a little ahavah
When you give a little love, you’ll see
You’ll make this world
A better place

Chorus (sing 2x)

That’s one, two, three and four
When you give a little love
Give a little bit more
Echad-shtayim-shalosh-arbah
Don’t forget to give a little ahavah
To your mama, your papa, your sister and your brother
To the whole wide world, let’s love one another

Just start to laugh a little laugh
Smile a little smile
Reach for someone’s hand
Talk a little while
Then you’ll start to see
That you have made
This world a better place to be

LOVE JOURNEYS—WRITING PROMPTS

Use this journal to keep track of the trips and journeys you go on as a family.

Be sure to date each entry and write a brief note about the place you visited (you might even want to include photos or drawings of your trip in your journal).

As you jot notes in your journal, consider using one of the following writing prompts to enhance the memories of your trip.

Write about:

- Something funny that happened on your trip.
- Something new that you discovered/learned while on your journey.
- A reason why you’d love to return to this place (or perhaps a reason why you’d rather not go back).
- Who would you like to bring with you the next time you visit this place? Why?
- Something that you’ll always remember about this place.
- The reason why you took this trip/journey.
- A book, movie, song that this place reminds you of.
- Questions you may have about this place.

A Grandma/Grandpa Like Yours
BY: ANDREA WARMFLASH ROSENBAUM ILLUSTRATED BY: BARB BJORNSON Age group: 1–4
Using whimsical animal illustrations, this two-sided rhyming book depicts the joy that grandparents and grandchildren experience as they celebrate important Jewish and everyday moments together. Side one, A Grandma Like Yours, shows grandmas, bubbes, savtas, and nanas lighting Shabbat candles, playing catch, delivering shalach manot baskets, and sharing other special moments with one another. Side two, A Grandpa Like Yours, portrays grandchildren interacting with their Grandpas, zaydes, and sabas in equally meaningful day-to-day and holiday tasks such as reading together, making matzah, and planting trees for Tu B’shevat.

The Shabbat Puppy
BY: LESLIE KIMMELMAN ILLUSTRATED BY: JAIME ZOLLARS Age group: 3–6
Every Saturday morning, Noah and Grampa celebrate Shabbat by taking a walk together, pausing to appreciate the numerous wonders of nature. Each time they spot one of nature’s small miracles—a fluttering butterfly, dancing autumn leaves, softly falling snowflakes—Grampa and Noah note that they have found “Shabbat Shalom.” Noah wishes to share their Shabbat strolls with his rambunctious puppy Mazel, but Grampa fears that Mazel might spoil the tranquility of their outings. When Mazel is a year old (and has outgrown some of his feistiness), Grampa allows Mazel to join them. To Noah’s joy, Mazel leads them to a new and unexpected moment of Shabbat Shalom.

Grandma Rose’s Magic
BY: LINDA ELOVITZ MARSHALL ILLUSTRATED BY: AG JATKOWSKA Age group: 5–8
Grandma Rose makes magic—both for her own grandchildren and for anyone who is in need of her sewing services. Every time Grandma Rose sews, she stitches a little something extra (rose-shaped buttons, a monogram, a flower) into her work. When the recipients notice Grandma’s thoughtful additions, Grandma declares that these extras must have been produced by “magic.” Grandma informs her granddaughter Julie that she is saving her money to buy a special set of dishes—ones that look just like the Shabbat dishes her grandmother used. But when Grandma goes to the department store to purchase her dishes, she discovers that dishes have all been sold. When Grandma disappointedly returns home, she is surprised to find all of her customers, friends, and family gathered together, each holding a piece of the coveted dish set.

Family Love Stories: Books that Focus on Love of Grandparents

GOALS
While each of these books focuses on a slightly different aspect of familial love, each can serve as a wonderful jumping-off point for an exploration of the topic of love with a specific focus on “love of grandparents.” This program guide presents an array of discussion questions and activities that will:

- Help children recognize and identify the deep bonds of love that connect them to their grandparents.
- Introduce children to effective techniques for expressing love, honor, and gratitude towards their grandparents.
- Enrich conversations and create new lasting memories for both children and grandparents.

Choose the activities

Program Note: This program can be designed as a program that children will attend with their grandparent(s) or it may be held as a program that children can attend accompanied by any adult. Participants should be told in advance that during the course of the program children will be making “gifts/projects” for their grandparent(s) or special adult.

CHOOSE 2–4 ACTIVITIES:
1-2 projects for introductory activities and 1-2 projects for follow-up activities.

Heart-to-Heart (Partner-Finding Activities)

Project Description: If you’d like to increase interaction between families, lead with one of the Heart-to-Heart activities. We recommend that you choose one the two partner-finding activities listed below, based on the ages of the children who will be participating in your program. These activities work best in conjunction with another activity (i.e., distribute Heart-to-Heart materials while a different project is being worked on).

Intro:
“As we think about love and the ways in which grandparents and grandchildren love one another, we thought it might be fun to meet another family and compare love notes with them. As you were working on your project, we passed out one half of a colorful heart to each family. Your job is to find the family who has the matching half.”

Heart-to-Heart Scavenger Hunt

Recommended for: ages 1 and up

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Paper with different colors and patterns

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Cut out large hearts using different kinds of paper.
- Cut the large hearts in half.
- Cut 6-8 miniature hearts to match each large heart.
- Place small hearts around the room (in easy-to-find spots).
Heart-to-Heart “Love Thoughts” Questionnaire

Recommended for: ages 5-8

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Copies of “Love Thoughts” questionnaire (attached)
- Pencils/Pens for completing questionnaire

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS
- Print copies of questionnaire

Intro:
“Now that you’ve found the family with the matching half of your heart, work together as a team to see how many small hearts you can find that match your large heart. Once you’ve collected and counted your small hearts, give your grandparents the same number of hugs and/or kisses as the number of hearts that you found.”

Picture-Perfect Love

Project Description: Children decorate picture frames and attach love notes to the frame. If desired, children can decorate their frame with blank puzzle pieces. For the puzzle frame option, children can attach a puzzle piece that says “Reasons why I love _____ to pieces.”

Recommended for: ages 1 and up

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Frame (made from poster board, craft foam, or heavy construction paper)
- Glue sticks or glue, bowls, and Q-tips
- Foam or construction paper shapes (or blank puzzle pieces) for families to write notes
- Markers
- Gems, stickers, sequins (or any other types of decoration)
- Optional: color printer

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Cut out frames and shapes that can be used for love notes
- Ask families to bring in a photo showing a child with one grandparent (preferably the grandparent who will be accompanying the child to the program) OR take photos of child with grandparent as families arrive. During the course of the program, print out and distribute photos to be placed in the frames.
- Create a sample frame that will serve as a model for families.
DIRECTIONS:
1. Ask adults to help children compose notes about the grandparent whose photo will be displayed in the frame.
2. One note should contain the words: “I love _____ because...”; “Things I like to do with ______...”; or “Reasons why I love_____ to pieces...”
3. The other shapes on the frame will contain short phrases and sentences that help to complete the statement you chose. For example, a heart shape might contain the words “Things I love to do with Grandma,” while the other shapes might contain words such as “read books,” “build with Legos,” or “go to the beach.”
4. Children attach love notes to frame and decorate the spaces in between notes.

Intro:
“Parents, grandparents (and kids) love looking at photos of the people they love. This project will help those photos become even more special. You will decorate a frame and add notes to the frame, letting the person in the photo know just how much you love them.”

Love Bites
Project Description:
Kids prepare special snacks for grandparents. Grandparents, in turn prepare special snacks for kids.

Recommended for: ages 2–8

Fruit Kebobs

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Strawberries
- Melon: cantaloupe, honeydew, watermelon (use one type or a combination)

- Yogurt: Plain, strawberry, and/or vanilla (Greek or regular)
- Granola
- Plastic cups
- Plastic spoons
- Heart shaped cookie cutters (optional)
- Apples (optional)
- Whipped cream (optional)

ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Remove green leaves from strawberries and cut into halves or quarters (or ask participants to cut the strawberries as part of the “cooking” process).
- Arrange strawberries, granola, and yogurt in separate bowls.
- Optional: Peel and cut apples crosswise into 1/4 inch wide slices. The core of the apple should be in the center of the slices. Remove seeds.

DIRECTIONS:
1. Taking an empty cup and spoon, participants fill their cup in layers (i.e., a layer of granola, a layer of yogurt, a layer of fruit, etc.).
2. Optional: Participants can prepare their own heart shaped fruit by slicing strawberries in half and using cookie cutters to cut apple hearts.
3. Optional: Top with whipped cream and enjoy!

Intro:
“This activity gives you a chance to show your love for your grandparents by preparing a special snack for them. As you make a snack for your grandparent, perhaps they’ll make a snack for you.”

Crows of Love

Project Description: Kids and grandparents prepare crowns for each other. A note in the center of crown reads “______is special because...” or “I love ______ because...” Small shapes contain descriptions of admirable traits of the crown wearer.

Recommended for: ages 1 and up

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Poster board, construction paper, or craft foam for making crowns
- OR pre-made crowns from places such as bulk party supplies (http://www.bulkpartysupplies.com)
- Stickers
- Construction paper shapes
- Stapler or hole punch and elastic
- Markers
- Glue sticks or glue, bowls, and Q-tips
ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:
- Cut out crowns from poster board or craft foam.
- Cut out shapes for love notes.
- Create a few sample crowns. Vary the wording on the crowns (examples: “I love Grandpa because...”; “Things I love to do with Jonah...”).

DIRECTIONS:
1. Choose a crown.
2. Decide who you’ll be making the crown for.
3. Select one shape to glue onto the center of the crown.
4. Decide upon the phrase you’d like to use for your crown, like “I love _____ because...”; “Things I love to do with _____...”; or “_____’s Superpowers.”
5. Glue on additional shapes and write words that fit with the words in the center of the crown.
6. Measure the crown-wearer’s head and either staple the crown or punch holes on either side of the crown and string an elastic between the holes.

Intro:
“When we see a crown on someone’s head, we assume that the person wearing the crown is someone special (After all, it’s usually kings and queens who wear crowns). Right now, we’d like you to make a crown for one of your very special grandparents. You’ll probably only have time today to make one crown, but once you see how easy it is to make crowns, you can go home and make a crown for each of your grandparents. To make this crown extra special, we’d like you to add some notes to your crown, describing things you love to do with your grandparent and/or things about your grandparent that you love (the adult who is with you can help with the writing). As you work on your crown, we’d like your grandparent to make a crown for you, filling it with notes that show how special you are.”

A Book of Love
Project Description: Children and grandparents create a memory book together. As they complete the inner pages of the book, children and grandparents have a chance to learn interesting information about one another. To enhance the reminiscing quality of the book, the cover of the book can be decorated with handprints of the grandparent and grandchild.

MATERIALS NEEDED:
- Large sheets of construction paper or poster board (to be used as book covers)
- Construction paper or craft foam for creating hand silhouettes or other shapes for the book covers
- Stickers
- Scissors
- Pre-cut shapes (e.g., hearts, Jewish stars, flowers, etc.)
- Glue sticks or glue, bows, and Q-tips
- Stapler, or hole punch and notebook rings
- Printed book pages for inside the book (provided at the end of this program)
- Pencils, pens, and markers
ADVANCED PREPARATIONS:

- Print copies of the inner book pages. Collate the pages so that every family will receive a stack/packet of all 5 pages.
- Create a sample book.

DIRECTIONS:

1. Fold large paper/poster board in half to create a book cover.
2. Optional: Trace around grandparent’s and grandchild’s hand, creating a hand silhouette. Cut out the hands (depending on the child’s age, adults may need to assist with the cutting).
3. Decorate cover with stickers, shapes, etc.
4. Remember to give your book a title.
5. Begin to fill in the spaces and complete some of the information for the book’s inner pages. (Don’t worry if you can’t finish the pages. This is a memory book that is meant to be worked on over time).
6. Insert pages into cover: either staple the book together or use a hole punch and metal rings to bind the book together.

Intro:
“Even though there is a big difference in your ages, you and your grandparent are probably alike in many different ways. Grandchildren and grandparents can learn a lot about one another by sharing stories and memories and talking about their favorite things with one another. This project will give you and your grandparent a chance to learn more about one another and write down some notes so that you can remember things about one another for a very long time.”

Read the story

Introductory Remarks:
“Because everyone has been talking about love and making such wonderful love projects, I feel as if this room is overflowing with love. Do you feel the love? Maybe we can add to it by having everyone give a big hug to the person who brought you to our program today. In our story, we’re going to meet grandchildren and grandparents who love one another very much. As we read, see if you can keep track of some of the ways that the grandparents and grandchildren in our story shows their love for one another.”

Post-Reading Discussion (Book-Specific Questions):

A GRANDMA/GRANDPA LIKE YOURS

1. The animals in our book have special names for their grandparent(s). Do you have special names for your grandparents? What do you call them?
2. What were some of the things that the grandparents and grandchildren in the book liked to do together? What do you like to do with your grandparents?
3. How did the grandparents in the book let their grandchildren know that they loved them very much? How did the grandchildren show their love to their grandparents? How do you let your grandparents know how much you love them?
THE SHABBAT PUPPY

1. What did Grampa and Noah like to do together?
2. Why didn’t Grampa want Mazel to go with them on their Shabbat walks?
3. When Grampa told Noah that Mazel couldn’t join them on their Shabbat walks, Noah didn’t yell or cry or argue with Grampa. He listened to his Grampa and honored his wishes. Honor is a word that means to treat another with respect. When we honor someone, we talk nicely to that person, we listen to what they say, and we help them as much as we can. We let everyone know how wonderful that person is. Noah showed honor and love towards his grandfather when he eagerly tried to do what his Grampa wished for and desired (to go on a walk in search of Shabbat Shalom while leaving Mazel behind). How do you show honor to your grandparents?
4. Do your grandparents have any special rules that you need to follow when you’re with them? (When you follow those rules without complaining, you’re honoring your grandparents).

GRANDMA ROSE’S MAGIC

1. Why did so many different people want to buy Grandma a set of dishes?
2. What was special about the dishes Grandma picked out? Why did she want to buy those specific dishes?
3. What did Julia, the granddaughter, do in this story? (Hint: Who was the person who Grandma spoke to about the dishes that she wanted?) How did Julia show her Grandma that she loved her? How did Grandma show her love towards Julia?

Post-Reading Discussion
(General Questions—for use with all books):

1. Does anyone know how to say love in Hebrew? (Ahava). In the middle of the word AHAVA is a small Hebrew word that says “HAVA.” “Hava” means “to give.” According to the Torah and other important books of Judaism, one of the ways that we can show people that we love them is by giving. I don’t mean giving money or presents—I mean showing that we love someone by giving hugs, kisses, attention, and by doing kind things for one another. How do you act and what words do you use to show your grandparents that you love them?
2. The Torah teaches that we need to show honor to our elders—people who are older than us (the Torah says that elders are those with white hair). What does the word honor (“kibud” or “kavod” in Hebrew) mean?
3. The Torah states that one way to show honor is to stand up when a person enters the room. Why do you think the Torah wants us to stand up when we see an older person?
4. According to the Torah, one reason why we stand when an older person comes into the room is because we know that someone who is older has lived for a very long time and has learned many important things. Do your grandparents know many different things? What are some of the lessons and facts that you’ve learned from your grandparents?
Follow Up activities and resources

Intro:
“Right now, we have more activities for you to do that will help you to show your grandma or grandpa how much you love them.”

Activities: Choose 1–2 additional activities from the opening list.

SINGING SONGS:

“DO IT FOR GRANDMA SONG”
(To the tune of “Did You Ever See a Lassie”)
Let’s clap our hands for Grandma, for Grandma, for Grandma, Let’s clap our hands for grandma, Let’s clap them this way.

Clap this way and that way, Clap this way and that way, Let’s clap our hands for Grandma Let’s clap them this way.

Have the children do the proper actions.
Use these other actions also: Let’s stomp our feet, Let’s nod our heads, etc.

“LET’S GO SEE OUR GRANDPARENTS”
(To the tune of “Take Me Out to the Ball Game”)
Let’s go see our grandparents, Take us there for a while. Mommy and Daddy both need a break. We’ll play games and we’ll stay up real late!

Oh, we want to thank our grandparents For all the things that they do, So it’s time..to..say you’re the best And that we love you!

“BUBBIE, ZEYDE” (for National Grandparents Day)
(To the tune of “Are You Sleeping?”)
Bubbie, Zeyde, Bubbie, Zeyde Today’s for you! Today’s for you! We want you to feel special, to know how much we love you.
Yes, we do! Yes, we do!

“YOU MAKE ME HAPPY”
(To the tune of “You Are My Sunshine”)
Bubbie and Zeyde, Bubbie and Zeyde, You make me happy; You make me laugh. You like to hug me, I know you love me; And I will always love you too.

“BUBBIE, BUBBIE WHEN ARE YOU COMING TO VISIT ME”
(To the tune of “My Bonnie Lies over the Ocean”)
My bubbie is also my grandma, my savta, my omma, my nana (2X)
Bubbie, Bubbie when are you coming to visit me?
Bubbie, Bubbie when are you coming to play?

My zaydie is also my grandpa, my saba, my poppa, my gramps (2x)
Zaydie, Zaydie when are you coming to visit me?
Zaydie, Zaydie when are you coming to stay?
After the program, contact the families, thanking them for coming. If possible, email one or two photos which you may have taken at the program.
